

The Final War!

As the titans thought where Grandfather Cronos is, Cronos sailed away to another island, the Cyclops island. Trying to persuade the Cyclops to join him, he said "Join me. Then you will have all the sheep you ever wanted, but first we need to destroy the clever titans so I can end the world!". The Cyclops tricked him and replied "yes". Then they huddled and Phil said "I think I have the perfect way to trick the old fool.

"What is it?" asked Jeff.

"It is to go back and follow him to his island and help the Titan destroy him" responded Phill.

Cronos had one of the largest ships in Greek History! Black, enormous (as big as mount Everest), speedy like a speedster and strong as a tyrannosaurus rex bone. It also had several bathrooms, twenty bedrooms and three kitchens. The Cyclops looked super surprised at how the ship looked.

As the titans thought of a plan, Athena asked Zeus "would you mind if Ares borrowed your sword?"

Zeus said "yes, only if you bring it back at scary full moon."

Athena shook with fear! She thought to herself "oh dear, we wont have enough time to train for the war."

The titans trained by meditation, but Ares was too excited so he practiced with Zeus's sword, but Athena forgot to tell Ares what the sword was capable of! Ares did not know that the sword could make chimichangas, or make him a devil, or make him trump!

The Titans discussed Cronos. They said "Cronos is the bad guy, why does he think we are the bad guys?"

They started a war against Cronos and the Cyclops joined them and they won!
